

Year 11 Engineering

The exam board is AQA.

What will I learn?

The year 11 course is focused on completion of the GCSE coursework folder work and practical project, alongside exam preparation.

The coursework will aim to be completed in the first term with examination preparation being the priority after that time.

We will look at the preliminary exam material and undertake the completion of past papers and mock questions in order to understand the ways to answer questions successfully. Skills and knowledge will be reinforced by additional theory lessons.

How will I be assessed?

Your coursework will be regularly assessed against the exam board criteria and marks recorded on Go4Schools.

Your exam prep questions will be marked against the exam marking scheme and feedback given accordingly. You will be given individual feedback on all aspects of your work regularly.

How will I be taught?

You will apply your skills and knowledge to your work throughout this year building your confidence and capability. We believe that for students to achieve their potential in engineering you should experience working with as many materials, machines and processes as possible to give the widest possible experience we can.
